

Engineers to the Rescue!

-Juniors and Cadettes-

Imagine you are camping at Yellowstone National Park when a huge earthquake hits and all of your supplies fall down a deep ravine. How will you and your friends survive and find help? Fortunately there is a group of women engineers camping next to you to help brainstorm a solution!

In this imaginary and innovative program girls get to build tools to help them survive this natural disaster scenario. Girls will explore basic engineering concepts, build prototypes of useful machines and explore a possible career in technology that they may have not considered before.

February 25, 2012

9:00 am - 12:00 pm

Montrose Program Center

$10

Register online at www.girlscoutsla.org

For More Information Contact:

Carissa Dragan

626-677-2256

cdragan@girlscoutsla.org

girls go tech