

Holiday Service Project for The Salvation Army

"My Buddy" Stuffed Animal Drive for Underprivileged Children

The holiday season is almost upon us and once again, Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles, Southeast Region, in collaboration with The Salvation Army of Pasadena, will host a region-wide service project called "My Buddy."

We are challenging all troops to collect new stuffed animals (with tags on) that will be donated to underprivileged children this holiday season. The council goal is to collect 1,000 new stuffed animals. A collection box is now available at the Arcadia Service Center and donations will be accepted through Tuesday, Dec. 13, 2010.

Challenge each troop family to donate a stuffed animal, use troop funds for this service project, create a pledge program, and more.

The service project deadline is Tuesday, Dec. 14, 2010. For more information, please contact Deanne Moore at (626) 677-2207 or dmoore@girlscoutsla.org.
