Activity I (15 minutes)	to be good listeners and learn how to talk with and cooperate with others. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The last skill is Business Ethics. This is where you will practice honesty and being responsible with every step of your cookie program. The world needs ethical leaders just like you! • Ask one group of girls to report to rotation 1, one group of girls to report to rotation 2, one group of girls to report to rotation 3, the next group of girls report to rotation, one group of girls reports to rotation 5 and the last group reports to rotation 6. Money Counts – Know your Money and More! Girls understand the value of money and Girls identify paper money and count up how many coins it takes to equal different amounts of money. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Girls turn to their Money Counts page in their binder and complete the Dot-to-Dot on that page as you explain that there are different values to paper money. There are $1.00 bills, $5.00 bill = 5 $1.00 bills. Show the money to the group as you explain how money works. • Finally, ask the girls to each gather and count out the following in paper money. They can combine $1, 5, 10 and $20 bills to create the following amounts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • $1.00 • $5.00 • $6.00 • $20.00 • Now that they’ve had some practice using the paper money in the workshop, distribute the Money Counts Worksheet and ask the girls to take a seat and see if they can add up those amounts. Help girls who have questions or may get stuck. • Tell the girls that money is used to pay for the things we want and need. Ask the girls to tell you an activity they would like to do; Disneyland, Bounce houses, movies, etc. • Example: Build a Bear, we the cost per girls is let’s say $30.00 • The girls should be told that they receive $.95 for each box they sell and so if the activity is going to cost $30, they will need to sell 32 boxes of cookies. • They can also talk about things you can do for Free! They can use their Money Counts worksheet and circle the activities that would be free. Ask them to share some fun things they like to do that are free example going to a park. • Can the Daisy Girls tell you how much 100 pennies is worth. Show them a $1 bill and a 100 pennies (in rows of 10X10). Have them count out the coins, help if needed. • Show the Daisy Girls how many quarters are equal to $1 bill. Activity III (15minutes)	Count It Up – Step 2 – Daisies Deliver Customer Service Girls practice how to interact with customers when they have questions or compliments. Know your product! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ask the girls to name the cookie flavors/varieties; they may need your help to name all of them. • If there are any second year Daisy Girl Scouts, ask them if they sold cookies last year. If so, did they have a good experience? Do they remember how the customers responded to them? Did a customer ask them something they were unsure how to answer? How did they handle it? • The Daisy Girl Scouts have a fun opportunity to role play Customer and Girl Scout. Girls divide into pairs and act out these scenarios with one girl as the customer and the other girl as the Daisy. Girls will switch roles as they move from one scenario to the next. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Scenario 1: The customer asks you what your favorite cookie is. - Scenario 2: The customer asks if there are any new cookies. Answer: Yes there is our new S’mores cookie. - Scenario 3: The customer says she used to be a Girl Scout and sold cookies too. - Scenario 4: The customer is allergic to gluten. Answer: We have a gluten free cookie it is our Toffee-tastic. - Scenario 5: The customer asks what the Daisy will do with the money she earns. 	Advanced Prep <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Boxes of cookies or mock boxes of cookies.

Activity IV (15 minutes)	- Scenario 6: The customer buys cookies and says she wants to come back later to buy more. Make sure the girls know that they should say thank you to their customer whether they buy cookies from them or not. Count It Up– The Cost of Cookies Girls understand what each box of cookies costs. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Talk to the girls about the cost of each box of Girl Scout cookies. This year there are two prices $5.00 and $6.00 for our specialty cookies. Ask how many $1 bills it takes to make $5.00? How many $5 bills does it take to equal $5.00? What if someone wants to buy two boxes? How much will that be? • Propose a number of different buying scenarios – 2 boxes, 3 boxes, etc. • Tell girls they are now going to take turns being the buyer and the seller. • With the “monopoly” money or Brownie elf money, girls take turns in pairs being the customer and the Daisy and practice various money exchanges such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - “Customer” hands Daisy $5 for one box (no change) - “Customer” hands Daisy $20 for two boxes ($10 change) - “Customer” hands Daisy $6 for one box at $6 each (no change) - “Customer hands Daisy $15 for two boxes at $6 each ($3 change) • Have the girls change roles so each can have a turn being the customer and the Daisy. • Ask the girls to move to the next activity. 	Advanced Prep <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Print Brownie Elf Money or “Monopoly” type money. ▪ Boxes of cookies or mock boxes of cookies.

Activity VI (15 minutes)	Money Counts – What Does Fun Cost? Girls plan a pretend outing and budget for that fun. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Advise girls that a lot of the things they do everyday cost money and planning a vacation or trip to the movies, fair or Disneyland can take some planning and today they are going to pretend they are going to go somewhere to do something fun. Ask, where would they like to go? Options can be movies, bowling, to the fair, Disneyland or Chuck E. Cheese. • Once girls have decided (as a group) where they want to go, pass out the Daisy Day Budget cards. Have them write their destination name and the word admission on the top line. For instance, “Disneyland admission”. Then ask the girls if they know how much admission costs (look it up ahead of time so you can be accurate). Give the girls the cost of admission to that event and have them write that down in the Cost field. • Next, remind girls there’s more than just getting into their destination. What else might they need while they are there? Depending on where they are going there will be a number of additional needs. If they are bowling, they will need to plan for transportation costs (bus or gas) and they may need shoe rentals and snacks. If they are going to the fair, they will need to plan for transportation costs and they may need tickets to the rides, snacks and souvenirs. • What do the girls think about free activities? What could they do for FREE, they can refer to the Money Counts worksheet and circle the activities that would be FREE. • Ask girls to make a list or draw pictures of fun things they can do for free. 	Advanced Prep <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Print and cut out Daisy Day Budget cards Materials: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Brownie Money Manager booklet ▪ Daisy Day Budget cards Pens/Pencils
Closing (10 minutes)	Friendship Squeeze Ask the girls to join together in a Daisy Circle. Explain they will now join hands for a special Girl Scout closing to their Girl Scout time together: The Friendship Circle and the friendship squeeze. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain that adults call this kind of thing a closing “ceremony” means celebrating something special in a special way, so they are closing their time together as Girl Scouts in a special way. • Ask the girls to cross their right arm over their left arm in front of them and hold hands with the girls on either side. • Once everyone is silent, you start the friendship squeeze by squeezing the hand of the person to her left. One by one, moving clockwise, each girl passes on the squeeze until it travels all the way around. Clean Up and Closing Congratulate the girls they earned their Financial Literacy Money Counts Leaf and Count It Up, Girl Scout Cookie Program leaf. Encourage the girls to keep working on their badges. 2 1/2 Hour Workshop
Daisies Deliver!
Year 2

(Girls Earn: Making Choices– Financial Literacy Leaf and Talk It Up – Cookie Business Leaf)

Objectives:

- Girls develop product knowledge and learn about the 5 Skills developed through the cookie program.
- Girls understand the difference between a want and a need and the concept of a budget.
- Girls set a savings goal and budget for their cookie program and decide how to spend their cookie money.

Outcomes:

- Girls develop knowledge of the cookie program and develop customer relations confidence.
- Girls understand how to count money and practice handling money.
- Girls understand the difference between a want and a need and learn to budget for the things they want.

Activities:

- 15 Second Game– Girls learn fun things about the Girl Scout sisters in this Ice Breaker game.
- 5 Steps to Success – Girls learn about the 5 skills developed through the cookie program and how those skills will help them throughout their lives.
- Making Choices, Activity I – Needs vs. Wants and Helping other with what the need and want – Girls listen to the book “Something Good” by Robert Munsch and explore the difference between a want and a need; then practice making wise choices. Daisy Girls think about what Families may need or want and decide how to help them.
- Making Choices, Activity II – Setting a Savings Goal – Girls choose one of their wants and set a savings goal to save weekly to meet that goal and obtain their want.
- Makeing Choices and Talk It Up, Activity III - How to use Cookie Money to Help Others – Girls decide as a group how they could help others with their cookie money and determine what that group needs.
Talk It Up, Activity IV – Decide How to Use Your Cookie Money and setting your goal - Girls decide as a group how they would like to spend their cookie money and set up a budget to determine how many cookies they need to sell to make their goal.
- Talk It Up, Activity V – Inspire your Customer – Girls show their customers that they are helping the girls do something important when they buy cookies.

Enhancements:

- When you have finished this workshop you can try other ways to practice the skills you have learned.
- Find a way to be helpful in your neighborhood/community. Maybe you can plant flowers in the garden of a the Senior Community building, make Christmas stockings for children who may not have presents, draw pictures on a poster showing how you are going to help your community with your cookie money; then display it at your cookie booth.
- You can make care packages for a needy group in your community.
- Have fun by helping other Girl Scouts, friends or classmates practice setting goals. There many different types of goals; monetary goals, classroom , friendships and family goals.
- There a many fun ways to exercise your skills!

Activity I (20 minutes)	The next skill is Decision Making. Every day we have decisions to make. You practice making decisions for example when you decide which friends to play with on the playground; whether to drink water or milk; wearing shorts or long pants. These are simple decisions, but they are still decisions. Practicing this skill will help the girls make good decisions throughout their lives. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The third skill is Money Management. Money management is a very important skill to have so they can learn how to handle money every day from their lunch money or allowance to (someday) their paycheck. Sometime soon you may earn allowance from chores you perform as part of your family, you can save some and spend some, ask you parents to help you with this, and it can be a lot of fun. - Skill number four is People Skills. We all deal with people every day. We need to be good listeners and learn how to talk with and cooperate with others. - The last skill is Business Ethics. This is where you will practice being honest and responsible with every step of your cookie program. The world needs ethical leaders just like you! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ask one group of girls to report to rotation 1, one group of girls to report to rotation 2, and the last group of girls to report to rotation 3. Making Choices – Needs vs. Wants and Helping Others, with needs and wants. Girls understand the difference between a need vs a want and learn about people don't have basic things they need such as clothes and food, while other people have much more than what they actually need. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Start this rotation by stating, "Have you ever gone grocery shopping with someone? What kinds of things do they sell in a grocery store that you like?" Allow several Daisies to suggest favorite foods or other items found in grocery stores, and then continue, "Today we're going to be talking about the things we want, and how we can't always get everything we want. We're going to hear a book today about a family that takes a trip to the grocery store. It's called "Something Good," by Robert Munsch. The little girl in this story, Tyya (pronounced tie-ya), is unhappy because her dad never buys anything "good" at the grocery store. Let's see what happens." • Read the book aloud to the class or have them listen to the author read the book on YouTube . - What is the difference between what kind of food Tyya's Dad bought and what she wanted him to buy (Answer: bread, eggs, spinach, cheese, but Tyya wanted Ice cream, chocolate, soda).
- Most people have a slightly different idea about what a "good" food is, but everyone agrees that they want good food. Explain that we have to pay for the things that we want and the things we need. The trouble is, usually people want a LOT of things, like Tyya. Ask the girls if they had their choice, would they pick only ONE chocolate bar or load the cart with hundreds like Tyya did?
- Wonder if they Tyya's Dad would have wanted to fill his cart with 50 bags of bread or 20 dozen eggs? What do you think of that? Because Tyya's Dad knew he didn't have the money for a huge basket of groceries and he had to get the things they needed before he got the things they wanted. Now Girl Scouts you have a fun chance to practice identifying needs vs. wants on these worksheets.
- Distribute the Needs vs. Wants Worksheets to each girl and ask them identify the needs vs. the wants by circling the word need or want under each picture and coloring those items that they feel are needs. Assist girls as needed. Congratulate them on making wise choices.
- Tell the girls they are going to practice choosing between needs and wants on the next worksheet.
- Distribute the Price is Wrong worksheet.
- Explain that each girl has $1, and she can choose from any of the items on the worksheet, as long as she doesn't go over $1. For example, she could buy a Yo-Yo for 27 cents, then she would have 73 cents left to spend on something else – or she could buy a soda for 75 cents and she would have only 25 cents to spend. Let girls choose how to spend their money and have girls share with the group what they chose and why.

Talk to the girls about different ways to help people such as donating food, clothes and toys. Ask them to think with their Daisy friends how they would like to help people in their community.

Girls can collect items from their friends and family and donate those items to charities that help families in need.

Talk to them about when they sell Girl Scout Cookies this year they can use part of their earnings to help other people. Lots of people need help the elderly, people in hospitals, kids who need school supplies, some girls and boys don't get presents for their birthdays, Easter baskets, or other special things, even animals in shelters need help.

When they are ready to sell Girl Scout Cookies they can ask their customers for help by buying a box of cookies to help the military and the food banks. Making Choices – Step 2 – Setting A Savings Goal Girls learn how to set a savings goal to achieve their wants. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain that when they have a want, such as wanting to go to an amusement park or buy a new toy or accessory, these things take money. Sometimes if the want is expensive, it can take time to save the money you need to get what you want. • Ask girls to think about something they really want, encourage them to share aloud. This should be a high energy brain storming moment. Then tell the girls, that whatever they want may be possible, but that today they are going to pretend that they can save $5.00 per week to reach their goal/s. Ask how many weeks it might take to reach their goals. For some girls it may be quick, like a new bracelet may cost $10, they would need to save for 2 weeks before they could get that bracelet. However, if another girl wants to visit Disneyland, that cost is $100 and would take 20 weeks to save that kind of money. • Ask girls to work together to decide what their wants are how much they cost and how long it will take to save (help girls as needed). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Pens/pencils/markers ▪ A poster board the girls can write on of things they could donate and who they can give them to. Materials: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Making Choices worksheet ▪ Pens/pencils/markers
