You will go home over the weekends. Must provide own transportation.

CIT I

Entering Grades 9–11

What makes up the magic of camp? A key component of that recipe is the unique independence that camp offers to girls, which often allows them to become emboldened in the risks they take and self-assured in their leadership abilities. The Counselor-in-Training sessions are a camp master course in this vital piece of camp magic. Begin your journey as a camp leader with CIT I while experiencing traditional camp activities. Lay the foundation of leadership through team-building, self-reflection, and identifying areas of personal growth. Leave camp with skills to connect with the world around you and be able to empower younger campers to do the same.

CIT II

Entering Grades 11–12

Must have completed two summers of CIT I

Learn how to harness your established camp leadership skills in specific program areas. Utilizing your knowledge of camp resources and staff, design, and help lead activities in the program area of your choice.

STAFF

Must be age 18+ at the start of camp
