

Five Skills

Girl Scouts develop five essential skills through the Girl Scout product programs. These five skills are key to leadership, success, and life. Whether girls participate in the Cookie Program or the Fall Product Program, everything your Girl Scouts learn prepares them to take on the world.

1

Goal Setting

Girl Scouts learn how to set goals and create a plan to reach them, enabling amazing experiences for themselves and their troops all year long, while helping others, too.

2

Decision Making

Girl Scouts learn to make decisions on their own and as a team, whether it's how to run and promote their business, interact with customers, or spend their earnings.

3

Money Management

Girl Scouts learn to expand their money smarts while running their own business, and learn to create a budget to fund the experiences they want to share as a troop.

4

People Skills

Girl Scouts find their voice and build confidence through customer interactions, developing valuable skills that will help them succeed in school, in business, and in life.

5

Business Ethics

Girl Scouts learn to act ethically—lessons that will stay with them for a lifetime of leadership and success.
