Ready to take your experienced hikers on a more advanced trip? Expert trainers will teach adults the essentials of helping Girl Scouts venture into remote wilderness areas, carrying all camping gear on their backs. This is the next step in progression after several long day hikes, with the intent of spending one or more nights outdoors, away from urban areas. The trip will be led by volunteer GSGLA Adult Educators who are experienced backpackers and trained in Wilderness and Remote First Aid (WRFA). This is actual overnight backpacking trip to a backcountry destination where you will practice skills needed for leading a trip with your troop.

Date: Saturday, August 28 - Sunday, August 29
